Chapter 3: मित्राय नमः (Mitraya Namah)

Subject	Sanskrit (NCERT Class 7, Deepakam)
Chapter	3 — मित्राय नमः (Mitraya Namah)
Total Questions	60 (Multiple Choice, single correct)
Maximum Marks	240
Suggested Time	90 minutes

Marking scheme: +4 for each correct answer · -1 for each wrong answer · 0 if unattempted.

Instructions: Each question has four options (A), (B), (C), (D); exactly one is correct. Questions test the meaning and grammar of the Sun Salutation. Watch the classic traps: नमः takes its object in the DATIVE (चतुर्थी विभक्ति) - मित्राय, not मित्रः; the dative ending here is -आय (छात्र -> छात्राय); सूर्यनमस्कारः is a single COMPOUND (समास), different from the two words सूर्याय नमस्कारः; आचार्या (-आ) is a FEMALE teacher while आचार्यः is male; and there are exactly TWELVE Sun-names and postures. Sanskrit is quoted in Devanagari. Do not write on this paper — mark answers on your answer sheet.

1. सूर्यनमस्कारः means:

- (A) the moon salutation (B) a wise saying
(C) an enemy (D) the Sun Salutation

2. सूर्यनमस्कारः is a combination (समाहारः) of how many postures (आसनानि)?

- (A) five (B) six
(C) twelve (D) ten

3. Each posture of the Sun Salutation is paired with:

- (A) a fault to give up (B) a wise saying about pots
(C) a mantra saluting the Sun by one of its twelve names
(D) a month's name only

4. The twelve postures of सूर्यनमस्कारः are said to mirror the twelve:

- (A) rivers of India (B) names of the Sun (and the twelve months)
(C) faults to give up (D) va-qualities

5. Practising सूर्यनमस्कारः daily is said to bring:

- (A) laziness and fear (B) health, vigour, brilliance and wisdom
(C) wealth alone (D) anger

6. The first mantra of the Sun Salutation is:

- (A) खये नमः (B) वन्दे मातरम्
(C) ॐ शान्तिः (D) मित्राय नमः

7. मित्राय नमः means:

- (A) the Sun salutes me (B) friends of the Sun
(C) salutation to the Sun (as Mitra, 'the friend')(D) O Sun, come here!

8. In मित्राय नमः, the word मित्र here is a name of:

- (A) the moon (B) a teacher
(C) a river (D) the Sun

9. नमः in मित्राय नमः means:

- (A) friend (B) posture
(C) salutation / bow (D) wisdom

10. नमः takes its object in which case?

- (A) nominative (B) accusative
(C) dative (चतुर्थी विभक्ति) (D) instrumental

11. Using नमः मित्रः (nominative) instead of नमः मित्राय is wrong because नमः governs the:

- (A) dative, so मित्राय (-आय) is needed (B) nominative
(C) genitive (D) vocative

12. The चतुर्थी विभक्ति (dative) generally means:

- (A) 'with / by' (B) 'of'
(C) 'to / for' (D) 'from'

13. The dative ending that turns मित्र into मित्राय is:

- (A) -एन (B) -स्य
(C) -आय (D) -अम्

14. To say 'salutation to Ravi (the Sun)', the correct form is:

- (A) रविः नमः (B) खये नमः
(C) रविम् नमः (D) खेः नमः

15. A student writes नमः सूर्यः. The error is that सूर्यः is _____, but नमः needs the dative.

- (A) nominative (B) dative (already correct)
(C) accusative (D) instrumental

16. The dative मित्राय answers the question 'to whom is the salutation offered?', namely:

- (A) to the moon (B) to the teacher
(C) to the student (D) to the Sun (Mitra)

17. Which of these is one of the twelve names of the Sun?

- (A) भास्करः (B) हिमालयः
(C) रत्नाकरः (D) घटः

18. रविः, भानुः, आदित्यः and अर्कः are all:

- (A) names (synonyms) of the Sun (B) names of rivers
(C) the six faults (D) postures only

19. Words that all mean the same thing, like the Sun's twelve names, are called:

- (A) antonyms (B) compounds
(C) एकार्थकशब्दाः (synonyms) (D) verbs

20. How many traditional names of the Sun does the chapter list?

- (A) twelve (B) five
(C) seven (D) twenty

21. Which is NOT a name of the Sun?

- (A) मित्रः (B) पर्वतराजः (the Himalaya)
(C) सविता (D) पूषा

22. The twelve Sun-names are paired one-to-one with the twelve:

- (A) wise sayings (B) enemies
(C) postures of the Sun Salutation (D) rivers

23. स्वस्थं शरीरम् means:

- (A) a sick body (B) a tall mountain
(C) a wise saying (D) a healthy body

24. स्वस्थ literally breaks into स्व + स्थ, meaning:

- (A) 'sun' + 'salute' (B) 'six' + 'fault'
(C) 'to' + 'for'
(D) 'self' + 'standing/abiding' = self-abiding (centred in oneself)

25. The deeper lesson of स्वस्थ ('self-abiding') is that health is:

- (A) being the richest person (B) being at ease, centred within oneself
(C) sleeping all day (D) never working

26. स्वस्थम् is glossed as नीरोगम्, meaning:

- (A) very wealthy (B) disease-free
(C) very lazy (D) very angry

27. Besides स्वस्थं शरीरम् (healthy body), the chapter says the practice also brings स्वस्थं _____ (a healthy mind).

- (A) मनः (B) धनम्
(C) रिपुः (D) घटः

28. That सूर्यनमस्कारः gives both a healthy शरीरम् and a healthy मनः shows its benefits:

- (A) only the body (B) both body and mind
(C) only wealth (D) neither body nor mind

29. प्रज्ञा means:

- | | |
|---------------------------|------------|
| (A) brilliance | (B) vigour |
| (C) wisdom / intelligence | (D) sleep |

30. तेजः means:

- | | |
|------------|---------------------------|
| (A) wisdom | (B) brilliance / radiance |
| (C) vigour | (D) fear |

31. वीर्यम् means:

- | | |
|--------------|---------------------|
| (A) wisdom | (B) radiance |
| (C) laziness | (D) vigour / valour |

32. The chapter says daily practice of सूर्यनमस्कारः increases one's तेजः, that is, one's:

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------|
| (A) brilliance / radiance | (B) laziness |
| (C) fear | (D) procrastination |

33. Which benefit pairs correctly: प्रज्ञा points to:

- | | |
|------------|--------------|
| (A) vigour | (B) radiance |
| (C) sleep | (D) wisdom |

34. Gaining वीर्यम् from the practice means gaining:

- | | |
|-----------------------|--------------|
| (A) wisdom | (B) radiance |
| (C) vigour and valour | (D) wealth |

35. सूर्यनमस्कारः is grammatically a:

- | | |
|--|--|
| (A) pair of separate words in the dative | (B) single verb |
| (C) complete sentence | (D) compound (समास) of सूर्य + नमस्कार |

36. In the compound सूर्यनमस्कार, the first member सूर्यः

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| (A) keeps a dative ending | (B) loses its case ending; the second member takes the case of the whole |
| (C) becomes a verb | (D) is dropped entirely |

37. Written as two separate words, 'salutation to the Sun' would be:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|----------------------|
| (A) सूर्याय नमस्कारः (dative) | (B) सूर्यः नमस्कारः |
| (C) सूर्यम् नमस्कारः | (D) सूर्येण नमस्कारः |

38. The compound सूर्यनमस्कारः (the practice) differs from सूर्याय नमस्कारः (two words) because:

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---|
| (A) they are exactly identical | (B) the compound names the practice, while the two words mean 'salutation to the Sun' |
| (C) the compound is a verb | (D) the two words are wrong Sanskrit |

39. Joining words into compounds (समास) in Sanskrit:

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------|
| (A) glues them together, dropping the first member's case ending | (C) keeps every case ending |
| (B) is forbidden | |

(D) reverses the meaning

40. आचार्या (with -आ) refers to a:

- | | |
|--------------------|------------------|
| (A) female teacher | (B) male teacher |
| (C) student | (D) mountain |

41. आचार्यः (with -ः) refers to a:

- | | |
|--------------------|------------------|
| (A) female teacher | (B) male teacher |
| (C) river | (D) posture |

42. The chapter's dialogue uses आचार्या, so the teacher in it is:

- | | |
|-------------|---------------|
| (A) a man | (B) a student |
| (C) a woman | (D) a king |

43. Changing आचार्या to आचार्यः in the dialogue would:

- | | |
|---|-------------------------|
| (A) flip the teacher's gender from female to male | (C) make it plural |
| (B) change nothing | (D) turn it into a verb |

44. Besides नमः, which other words idiomatically govern the dative?

- | | |
|--------------------|------------------------|
| (A) वन्दे and दृश् | (B) स्वाहा and स्वस्ति |
| (C) गम् and पठ् | (D) च and वा |

45. The fact that नमः, स्वाहा and स्वस्ति all take the dative shows that:

- | | |
|--|---|
| (A) all Sanskrit words take the dative | (B) the dative is never used |
| (C) nominative and dative are the same | (D) a small set of Sanskrit words idiomatically governs the dative case |

46. स्वस्ति (as in स्वस्ति प्रजाभ्यः) would be followed by a word in the:

- | | |
|----------------|------------------|
| (A) accusative | (B) instrumental |
| (C) vocative | (D) dative |

47. The dative singular of छात्र ('student') is:

- | | |
|-------------|-------------|
| (A) छात्रः | (B) छात्राय |
| (C) छात्रम् | (D) छात्रेण |

48. The chapter teaches the dative paradigm of छात्र so students understand why _____ appears in the mantras.

- | | |
|-------------------------|----------------------------|
| (A) मित्रः (nominative) | (B) मित्रम् (accusative) |
| (C) मित्राय (dative) | (D) मित्रेण (instrumental) |

49. Both छात्राय and मित्राय end in -आय, which marks the:

- | | |
|-------------------------|-----------------------|
| (A) dative singular | (B) nominative plural |
| (C) accusative singular | (D) genitive singular |

50. If नमः governs मित्र, the correct dative form is:

- (A) मित्रः
(C) मित्रस्य
- (B) मित्रम्
(D) मित्राय

51. Which word-meaning pair is CORRECT?

- (A) तेजः = vigour
(C) प्रज्ञा = wisdom
- (B) वीर्यम् = radiance
(D) स्वस्थम् = sick

52. Which Sun-related pair is CORRECT?

- (A) मित्राय नमः = salutation to the Sun
(C) भास्करः = a river
- (B) मित्रः = the moon
(D) सूर्यनमस्कारः = a wise saying

53. Which grammar pair is CORRECT?

- (A) नमः governs the nominative
(C) नमः governs the accusative
- (B) नमः governs the dative (चतुर्थी)
(D) नमः governs the instrumental

54. Which etymology pair is CORRECT?

- (A) स्वस्थ = sun + salute
(C) आचार्या = male teacher
- (B) सूर्यनमस्कार = self + standing
(D) स्वस्थ = स्व + स्थ (self-abiding)

55. The main theme of this chapter is:

- (A) learning the Sun Salutation and the dative case, and the well-being it brings
(B) a fox and grapes
(D) types of government
- (C) banking and finance

56. The chapter links physical postures with mantras to teach that:

- (A) grammar is useless
(C) mantras have no meaning
(D) body and language/grammar can be learned together, bringing health and wisdom
- (B) exercise harms the body

57. Why does the chapter teach the dative right after the first mantra?

- (A) because the dative is never used in mantras
(C) because नमः in the mantra governs the dative (मित्राय)
(D) to avoid teaching any grammar
- (B) because मित्राय is actually nominative

58. The benefits listed - स्वस्थं शरीरम्, वीर्यम्, तेजः, प्रज्ञा - together describe a person who is:

- (A) lazy, fearful and angry
(C) sleepy and idle
- (B) wealthy but sick
(D) healthy, vigorous, radiant and wise

59. Putting it together, मित्राय नमः is best analysed as:

- (A) मित्रः (nominative) + नमः, meaning 'the Sun salutes'
(B) मित्राय (dative, 'to the Sun') + नमः ('salutation') = 'salutation to the Sun'
(C) a compound meaning 'sun-salute' (D) an instrumental form meaning 'by the Sun'

60. A student claims: 'नमः takes the nominative, and सूर्यनमस्कारः is two separate words.' The best correction is:

- (A) नमः takes the dative (मित्राय), and सूर्यनमस्कारः is a single compound (समास)
- (B) the student is fully correct
- (C) नमः takes the dative, and सूर्यनमस्कारः is two words
- (D) नमः takes the nominative, and सूर्यनमस्कारः is a compound

Worked Solutions

- (D) सूर्यनमस्कारः is the Sun Salutation. It is not a moon salutation, a wise saying, or an enemy.
- (C) The Sun Salutation is a combination of twelve postures (द्वादश आसनानि). It is not five, six, or ten.
- (C) Each of the twelve postures is paired with a mantra saluting the Sun by one of its twelve names. It is not a fault, a pot-saying, or merely a month-name.
- (B) The twelve postures mirror the twelve Sun-names (and the twelve months). Not rivers, faults, or the va-qualities.
- (B) Daily practice brings health, vigour (वीर्यम्), brilliance (तेजः) and wisdom (प्रज्ञा). Not laziness, mere wealth, or anger.
- (D) The first mantra is मित्राय नमः (the chapter's title). स्वये नमः is a later mantra; वन्दे मातरम् is from Chapter 1.

7. (C) मित्राय (dative) + नमः = 'salutation to the Sun (Mitra)'. It is not 'the Sun salutes me', a plural, or a vocative call.
8. (D) Here मित्र ('friend') is one of the twelve names of the Sun. It is not the moon, a teacher, or a river.
9. (C) नमः means 'salutation / bow'. Friend is मित्र, a posture आसनम्, and wisdom प्रज्ञा.
10. (C) नमः idiomatically governs the dative (चतुर्थी), so the one saluted goes into the dative (मित्राय). Not nominative, accusative, or instrumental.
11. (A) नमः governs the dative, so मित्राय (-आय) is correct, not the nominative मित्रः. It is not genitive or vocative.
12. (C) The dative (चतुर्थी) means 'to / for'. 'With/by' is instrumental, 'of' genitive, and 'from' ablative.
13. (C) The dative singular ending -आय gives मित्राय. -एन is instrumental, -स्य genitive, and -अम् accusative.
14. (B) नमः needs the dative, so स्वये नमः (dative of रवि). रविः is nominative, रविम् accusative, and रवेः genitive/ablative.
15. (A) सूर्यः is nominative; नमः needs the dative सूर्याय. It is not already correct, accusative, or instrumental.
16. (D) मित्राय (dative) shows the salutation is offered to the Sun (Mitra). Not the moon, teacher, or student.
17. (A) भास्करः is one of the Sun's twelve names. हिमालयः is the Himalaya, स्नाकरः the ocean, and घटः a pot.
18. (A) रविः, भानुः, आदित्यः and अर्कः are all names of the Sun. They are not rivers, faults, or merely postures.
19. (C) Words with one meaning are एकार्थकशब्दाः (synonyms). They are not antonyms, compounds, or verbs.
20. (A) The chapter lists twelve names of the Sun, paired with the twelve postures. Not five, seven, or twenty.
21. (B) पर्वतराजः ('king of mountains') is the Himalaya, not the Sun. मित्रः, सविता and पूषा are all Sun-names.
22. (C) The twelve names pair one-to-one with the twelve postures of the Sun Salutation. Not sayings, enemies, or rivers.

- 23. (D) स्वस्थं शरीरम् means 'a healthy body'. It is not a sick body, a mountain, or a saying.
- 24. (D) स्व ('self') + स्थ ('standing/abiding') = 'self-abiding'. The other splits are wrong.
- 25. (B) स्वस्थ teaches that health is being at ease, centred within oneself. It is not about wealth, sleeping, or idleness.
- 26. (B) स्वस्थम् = नीरोगम् = 'disease-free'. It does not mean wealthy, lazy, or angry.
- 27. (A) The practice brings स्वस्थं मनः (a healthy mind) as well as a healthy body. धनम् is wealth, रिपुः an enemy, and घटः a pot.
- 28. (B) It benefits both body and mind (शरीरम् and मनः). Not the body alone, wealth, or neither.
- 29. (C) प्रज्ञा means 'wisdom / intelligence'. Brilliance is तेजः, vigour वीर्यम्, and sleep निद्रा.
- 30. (B) तेजः means 'brilliance / radiance'. Wisdom is प्रज्ञा, vigour वीर्यम्, and fear भयम्.
- 31. (D) वीर्यम् means 'vigour / valour'. Wisdom is प्रज्ञा, radiance तेजः, and laziness आलस्यम्.
- 32. (A) तेजः is brilliance/radiance, which the practice increases. It does not increase laziness, fear, or procrastination.
- 33. (D) प्रज्ञा is wisdom. Vigour is वीर्यम्, radiance तेजः, and sleep निद्रा.
- 34. (C) वीर्यम् is vigour and valour. Wisdom is प्रज्ञा, radiance तेजः, and wealth धनम्.
- 35. (D) सूर्यनमस्कारः is a compound (समास) of सूर्य + नमस्कार. It is not two separate dative words, a verb, or a sentence.
- 36. (B) In a compound the first member loses its case ending and the second takes the whole compound's case. It does not keep a dative ending, become a verb, or vanish.
- 37. (A) As two words it is सूर्याय नमस्कारः (dative, because नमस्कार/नमः governs the dative). Not the nominative, accusative, or instrumental forms.
- 38. (B) The compound names the practice; the two-word phrase means 'salutation to the Sun'. They are not identical, the compound is not a verb, and the two words are valid Sanskrit.
- 39. (A) Compounding glues words together, dropping the first member's case ending. It is not forbidden, does not keep every ending, and does not reverse meaning.
- 40. (A) आचार्या (with -आ) is a female teacher. आचार्यः is male; a student is छात्रः and a mountain पर्वतः.

- 41. (B) आचार्यः (with -ः) is a male teacher. आचार्या is female; a river is नदी and a posture आसनम्.
- 42. (C) Because the dialogue uses आचार्या (feminine), the teacher is a woman. Not a man, student, or king.
- 43. (A) Switching आचार्या to आचार्यः flips the teacher's gender from female to male. It does not leave meaning unchanged, make it plural, or make a verb.
- 44. (B) नमः, स्वाहा and स्वस्ति idiomatically govern the dative. वन्दे takes the accusative; गम्/पठ् are verbs; च/वा are conjunctions.
- 45. (D) A small set of words (नमः, स्वाहा, स्वस्ति) idiomatically governs the dative. Not all words do, the dative is used, and it differs from the nominative.
- 46. (D) स्वस्ति governs the dative (प्रजाभ्यः, 'for the people'). Not accusative, instrumental, or vocative.
- 47. (B) The dative singular of छात्र is छात्राय. छात्रः is nominative, छात्रम् accusative, and छात्रेण instrumental.
- 48. (C) Learning छात्राय shows why the dative मित्राय appears in the mantras. The nominative, accusative and instrumental forms are not what नमः requires.
- 49. (A) The shared -आय ending marks the dative singular. It is not nominative plural, accusative singular, or genitive singular.
- 50. (D) The dative मित्राय is correct with नमः. मित्रः is nominative, मित्रम् accusative, and मित्रस्य genitive.
- 51. (C) प्रज्ञा = wisdom. तेजः is radiance (not vigour), वीर्यम् is vigour (not radiance), and स्वस्थम् is healthy (not sick).
- 52. (A) मित्राय नमः = salutation to the Sun. मित्रः is a Sun-name (not the moon), भास्करः is the Sun (not a river), and सूर्यनमस्कारः is the Sun Salutation (not a saying).
- 53. (B) नमः governs the dative (चतुर्थी विभक्ति). It does not govern the nominative, accusative, or instrumental.
- 54. (D) स्वस्थ = स्व + स्थ ('self-abiding'). The other splits and the आचार्या gender are wrong.
- 55. (A) The chapter teaches the Sun Salutation and the dative case, and the well-being the practice brings. It is not the fox story, banking, or government.
- 56. (D) Pairing postures with mantras teaches body and grammar together, bringing health and wisdom. Grammar is not useless, exercise is beneficial, and the mantras have meaning.

57. (C) It teaches the dative because नमः in मित्राय नमः governs it. The dative is used here, मित्राय is dative not nominative, and the chapter does teach grammar.

58. (D) Together these benefits describe a healthy, vigorous, radiant and wise person. Not a lazy, sick, or idle one.

59. (B) मित्राय (dative) + नमः = 'salutation to the Sun'. It is not a nominative subject, a compound, or an instrumental.

60. (A) नमः takes the dative (मित्राय), and सूर्यनमस्कारः is a single compound. The other options keep one or both errors.
