Chapter 5: सेवा हि परमो धर्मः (Seva Hi Paramo Dharmah)

Subject	Sanskrit (NCERT Class 7, Deepakam)
Chapter	5 — सेवा हि परमो धर्मः (Seva Hi Paramo Dharmah)
Total Questions	60 (Multiple Choice, single correct)
Maximum Marks	240
Suggested Time	90 minutes

Marking scheme: +4 for each correct answer · -1 for each wrong answer · 0 if unattempted.

Instructions: Each question has four options (A), (B), (C), (D); exactly one is correct. Questions test the lesson's meaning, message and grammar. Watch the classic traps: परमः here means 'highest in rank', NOT 'first in time'; सेवा (service through time and presence) differs from दान (giving money/goods from afar); चिकित्सकः is an AGENT noun ('one who heals', -क), while the sick person is रोगिन् (-इन्); यन्त्रवत् means 'like a MACHINE' (tireless, steady), with -वत् meaning 'like'; and कषायम् here is a herbal decoction (medicine). Sanskrit is quoted in Devanagari. Do not write on this paper — mark answers on your answer sheet.

1. The chapter's thesis, सेवा हि परमो धर्मः, means:

- (A) duty is the highest service (B) money is the highest duty
(C) service is verily the highest duty (D) a doctor is the highest duty

2. सेवा means:

- (A) a degree (B) (selfless) service
(C) a machine (D) a decoction

3. परमो धर्मः means:

- (A) the first task of the day (B) a herbal medicine
(C) a designation (D) the highest duty

4. The particle हि in सेवा हि परमो धर्मः is:

- (A) a negation ('not') (B) a question marker
(C) emphatic ('verily / indeed') (D) a plural ending

5. The chapter's title states that the highest duty is:

- (A) सेवा (service) (B) उपाधिः (a degree)
(C) पदवी (a position) (D) धनम् (wealth)

6. How does सेवा differ from दान?

- (A) सेवा is service (time, body, presence); दान is giving money or goods
(B) they are exactly the same (C) सेवा means giving money
(D) दान means showing up in person

7. A rich person who writes a cheque from a distance is performing:

- (A) सेवा, not दान (B) दान (giving), not सेवा
(C) neither दान nor सेवा (D) both equally as सेवा

8. सेवा specifically requires:

- (A) only sending money (B) staying far away
(C) showing up - giving one's time and presence
(D) owning a laboratory

9. In the chapter, what most clearly exemplifies परमो धर्मः?

- (A) the doctor's degree (B) the doctor's wealth
(C) the doctor's designation
(D) the doctor's service (presence at the patient's bedside)

10. The chapter's doctor does both दान and सेवा, but the chapter praises especially his:

- (A) दान - donations from afar (B) collection of degrees
(C) सेवा - bedside service to the sick (D) pursuit of positions

11. परमः here means:

- (A) first in time (B) last
(C) highest / supreme (in rank) (D) smallest

12. Saying परमो धर्मः means 'the first duty of the morning' is wrong because परमः means:

- (A) first in time, not importance (B) highest in importance, not first in time
(C) the smallest duty (D) an optional duty

13. The verse ranks duties by:

- (A) the time of day they are done (B) importance (service being highest)
(C) their cost in money (D) their length

14. Calling सेवा the परमो धर्मः means service is:

- (A) the only duty that exists (B) the highest duty one can perform
(C) the easiest duty (D) a duty for the rich alone

15. चिकित्सकः means:

- (A) a sick person (B) a machine

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| (A) selfless service to those in need | (B) earning the most degrees |
| (C) gaining the highest title | (D) becoming wealthy |

26. यन्त्रवत् means:

- | | |
|----------------------|---|
| (A) like a degree | (B) like a machine (tirelessly, steadily) |
| (C) like a decoction | (D) like a position |

27. यन्त्रवत् is glossed यन्त्रम् इव, where the -वत् suffix means:

- | | |
|----------------|-----------|
| (A) 'like' | (B) 'not' |
| (C) 'to / for' | (D) 'of' |

28. Describing the doctor as यन्त्रवत् praises his:

- (A) love of money (B) tireless, steady, automatic-like effort
(C) collection of titles (D) laziness

29. यन्त्र in modern Sanskrit/Hindi specifically means:

- (A) doctor (B) grape
(C) machine (D) degree

30. Reading यन्त्रवत् as merely 'tool-like' loses the chapter's image of:

- (A) great wealth (B) steady, untiring motion
(C) high rank (D) astringent taste

31. A volunteer who serves food untiringly for hours, never stopping, is working:

- (A) आम्लम् (sourly) (B) यन्त्रवत् (like a machine)
(C) वामतः (on the left) (D) मानवीयाः (humanely) only by sitting still

32. उपाधि: means:

- (A) a position / post (B) a decoction
(C) a degree (qualification) (D) service

33. पदवी means:

- (A) a position / designation (a post) (B) a degree
(C) a machine (D) a herb

34. The difference between उपाधि: and पदवी is that उपाधि: is a _____ while पदवी is a _____.

- (A) post ... degree (B) machine ... medicine
(C) service ... duty
(D) degree (qualification) ... position/designation (post held)

35. The doctor gives up the pursuit of उपाधि: and पदवी, meaning he stops chasing:

- (A) patients and medicine (B) degrees and high positions
(C) food and rest (D) service and duty

36. By setting aside उपाधि: and पदवी for सेवा, the doctor shows he values:

- (A) titles above service (B) service above titles and posts
(C) wealth above all (D) rest above work

37. मानवीया: means:

- (A) humane (qualities befitting a human) (B) machine-like
(C) sour (D) tired

38. मानवीया: is glossed मानवे भवितव्याः, from मानव ('human') + -ईय, meaning:

- (A) 'against humans' (B) 'like a machine'
(C) 'befitting a human' (humane) (D) 'of the Sun'

39. The chapter values मानवीया: qualities over:

- (A) titles and wealth
(C) health and wisdom

- (B) service and kindness
(D) humane behaviour itself

40. Saying what truly makes a person is their humane qualities, not their titles, reflects the value of:

- (A) उपाधि: (degrees) (B) पदवी (positions)
(C) मानवीया: (humane qualities) (D) धनम् (wealth)

41. A doctor who is kind and caring to every patient, rich or poor, shows _____ qualities.

- (A) यन्त्रवत् (machine-only) (B) मानवीया: (humane)
(C) आम्लम् (sour) (D) वामतः (leftward)

42. कषायम् in this chapter means:

- (A) a degree (B) a machine
(C) a herbal decoction (medicine, a kadha) (D) a position

43. कषायम् is glossed as क्वाथः, an Ayurvedic medicine made by:

- (A) minting coins (B) writing degrees
(C) building machines (D) boiling herbs

44. The word कषाय can also mean a TASTE, namely:

- (A) astringent (one of the six tastes) (B) sweet
(C) sour (D) salty

45. Whether कषाय means 'herbal medicine' or 'astringent taste' depends on:

- (A) the context (a medical scene vs a taste discussion)
(B) the speaker's gender (C) the time of day
(D) the number of the noun

46. In this chapter's medical scene, कषायम् means:

- (A) the astringent taste (B) a degree
(C) a machine (D) the herbal medicine

47. Which word-meaning pair is CORRECT?

- (A) सेवा = service (B) उपाधि: = service
(C) कषायम् = a degree (D) यन्त्रवत् = sour

48. Which medical/role pair is CORRECT?

- (A) चिकित्सकः = the sick (B) रोगी = the healer
(C) both चिकित्सकः and रोगी = the medicine
(D) चिकित्सकः = the one who heals; रोगी = the sick

49. Which suffix pair is CORRECT?

- (A) -वत् = past tense; -क = 'like' (B) -वत् = 'like'; -क = agent ('does-er')
(C) -वत् = plural; -क = dative (D) -वत् = 'not'; -क = patient

50. Which value-contrast pair is CORRECT?

- (A) degrees are valued over humane qualities (B) wealth is the highest duty
- (C) titles make a person
- (D) मानवीयाः (humane qualities) are valued over उपाधिः/पदवी (degrees/posts)

51. The overall theme of this chapter is:

- (A) that degrees and titles matter most (B) a fable about a fox
- (C) the names of the Sun (D) that selfless service is the highest duty

52. A student who quietly helps a sick neighbour every day, expecting nothing, best embodies:

- (A) सेवा (selfless service) (B) दान from afar
- (C) the pursuit of उपाधिः (D) यन्त्र as a tool

53. The chapter would say that a brilliant doctor who refuses to treat the poor lacks:

- (A) the spirit of सेवा and मानवीयाः qualities (B) enough degrees
- (C) a high enough position (D) more wealth

54. Choosing to serve the sick rather than chase titles shows that, for the chapter:

- (A) status ranks above service (B) wealth ranks above both
- (C) titles equal service (D) service ranks above status

55. Working यन्त्रवत् in service means serving:

- (A) only when rewarded (B) from a great distance
- (C) only the wealthy (D) tirelessly and steadily

56. The chapter links सेवा with मानवीयाः qualities to teach that true worth lies in:

- (A) how many degrees one holds (B) how humanely one serves others
- (C) how high one's post is (D) how much wealth one has

57. Putting it together, सेवा हि परमो धर्मः is best understood as:

- (A) 'a degree is the highest duty', shown by a doctor collecting degrees
- (B) 'wealth is the highest duty'
- (C) 'service is verily the highest duty', shown by the doctor who serves the sick over chasing titles
- (D) 'a position is the highest duty'

58. The doctor's example proves the thesis because he:

- (A) collects the most degrees in the land (B) wins the highest position
- (C) sets aside उपाधिः and पदवी and tirelessly serves रोगिणः
- (D) serves only paying patients

59. The chapter's vocabulary (उपाधिः, पदवी, मानवीयाः, कषायम्) supports its message by contrasting:

- (A) two kinds of machines
- (B) left and right directions
- (C) outward titles with humane service and concrete care
- (D) thirst and hunger

60. A student claims: 'परमो धर्मः means the first duty of the morning, and सेवा is just giving money.' The best correction is:

- (A) the student is fully correct
- (B) परमः means highest, and सेवा is giving money
- (C) परमः means first, and सेवा is service
- (D) परमः means highest (not first in time), and सेवा is service through one's presence, distinct from दान (giving money)

Worked Solutions

- (C) सेवा हि परमो धर्मः means 'service is verily the highest duty'. The other readings reverse or distort it.
- (B) सेवा is (selfless) service. A degree is उपाधिः, a machine यन्त्रम्, and a decoction कषायम्.
- (D) परमो धर्मः means 'the highest duty'. It is not a morning task, a medicine, or a designation.
- (C) हि is an emphatic particle ('verily / indeed'). It is not a negation, a question marker, or a plural ending.
- (A) The title names सेवा (service) as the highest duty. Not a degree, a position, or wealth.
- (A) सेवा is service through time, body and presence; दान is giving money or goods. They overlap but differ, and the descriptions are not reversed.
- (B) Giving money from afar is दान, not सेवा (which needs presence). It is not सेवा, nor neither, nor both as service.

- 8. (C) सेवा requires showing up - giving time and presence. It is not merely sending money, staying away, or owning a lab.
- 9. (D) The doctor's bedside service exemplifies परमो धर्मः. Not his degree, wealth, or designation.
- 10. (C) The chapter especially praises his सेवा (bedside service). Not donations from afar, degrees, or positions.
- 11. (C) परमः here means 'highest / supreme in rank'. It does not mean first in time, last, or smallest.
- 12. (B) परमः means highest in importance, not first in time. It is not the smallest or an optional duty.
- 13. (B) The verse ranks duties by importance, with service highest. Not by time of day, cost, or length.
- 14. (B) It means service is the highest duty one can perform. It is not the only duty, the easiest, or only for the rich.
- 15. (D) चिकित्सकः is a physician, 'one who heals'. A sick person is रोगी, a machine यन्त्रम्, and a degree उपाधिः.
- 16. (D) An agent noun names the doer - here 'one who heals'. The one healed is रोगी, the medicine कषायम्, and the disease रोगः.
- 17. (D) The -क suffix marks the agent (does-er). It does not mark the patient, past tense, or plural.
- 18. (A) The sick person is रोगी / रोगिन् (with -इन्). चिकित्सकः is the healer, कषायम् the medicine, and उपाधिः a degree.
- 19. (A) The healer is चिकित्सकः (-क, agent) and the sick one रोगिन् (-इन्). The reversal and 'both same' options are wrong.
- 20. (B) The physician serves रोगिणः (the sick). Not only the wealthy, kings, or other doctors.
- 21. (A) The doctor serves the sick tirelessly, day after day. Not only once, only the rich, or only for money.
- 22. (D) He sets aside the pursuit of degrees (उपाधिः) and positions (पदवी) to serve. Not patients, food, or service itself.
- 23. (C) Preparing कषायम् for the sick is service in concrete form - not in name only, theory only, or for fame.

- 24. (C) He embodies the thesis by living out सेवा daily. Not by collecting degrees, seeking positions, or avoiding the sick.
- 25. (A) The physician teaches that the highest duty is selfless service. Not earning degrees, gaining titles, or wealth.
- 26. (B) यन्त्रवत् means 'like a machine' (tireless, steady). It is not like a degree, decoction, or position.
- 27. (A) The -वत् suffix means 'like' (यन्त्रम् इव = 'like a machine'). It does not mean 'not', 'to/for', or 'of'.
- 28. (B) यन्त्रवत् praises his tireless, steady effort. Not love of money, titles, or laziness.
- 29. (C) यन्त्र specifically means 'machine'. A doctor is चिकित्सकः, a grape द्राक्षा, and a degree उपाधिः.
- 30. (B) यन्त्रवत् conveys steady, untiring motion, which 'tool-like' misses. It is not about wealth, rank, or taste.
- 31. (B) Serving untiringly for hours is working यन्त्रवत् (machine-like). The others mean sourly, on-the-left, or are nonsensical here.
- 32. (C) उपाधिः is a degree (qualification). A post is पदवी, a decoction कषायम्, and service सेवा.
- 33. (A) पदवी is a position / designation. A degree is उपाधिः, a machine यन्त्रम्, and a herb is part of कषायम्.
- 34. (D) उपाधिः is a degree (qualification); पदवी is a position/post held. The reversal and the other pairs are wrong.
- 35. (B) He stops chasing degrees and high positions (उपाधिः, पदवी). Not patients, food, or service itself.
- 36. (B) He values service above titles and posts. Not titles, wealth, or rest above service.
- 37. (A) मानवीयाः means 'humane' (befitting a human). It does not mean machine-like, sour, or tired.
- 38. (C) मानव ('human') + -ईय ('befitting') = 'humane'. It does not mean 'against humans', 'machine-like', or 'of the Sun'.
- 39. (A) The chapter values humane (मानवीयाः) qualities over titles and wealth - not over service, health, or humaneness itself.
- 40. (C) It reflects the value of मानवीयाः (humane qualities). Degrees, positions and wealth are what it ranks below.

- 41. (B) Kindness to every patient shows मानवीयाः (humane) qualities. The others mean machine-like, sour, or leftward.
- 42. (C) Here कषायम् is a herbal decoction (medicine). It is not a degree, machine, or position.
- 43. (D) कषायम् (क्वाथः) is made by boiling herbs. It is not minted, written, or built.
- 44. (A) As a taste, कषाय is astringent, one of the six tastes. It is not sweet, sour, or salty.
- 45. (A) Context decides the meaning: a medical scene gives 'medicine', a taste discussion gives 'astringent'. Not gender, time, or number.
- 46. (D) In the medical scene कषायम् is the herbal medicine. Not the taste, a degree, or a machine.
- 47. (A) सेवा = service. उपाधिः is a degree, कषायम् a decoction, and यन्त्रवत् 'like a machine'.
- 48. (D) चिकित्सकः is the healer and रोगी the sick. The other options swap or confuse the roles.
- 49. (B) -वत् means 'like' and -क marks the agent. The other pairings are wrong.
- 50. (D) Humane qualities are valued over degrees and posts. The chapter does not rank degrees, wealth, or titles above them.
- 51. (D) The theme is that selfless service is the highest duty. It is not that titles matter most, the fox fable, or Sun-names.
- 52. (A) Quietly helping daily, expecting nothing, embodies सेवा (selfless service). Not distant दान, chasing degrees, or a tool.
- 53. (A) Refusing to treat the poor shows a lack of सेवा and humane (मानवीयाः) qualities, not of degrees, position, or wealth.
- 54. (D) It shows service ranks above status. The chapter does not rank status, wealth, or titles above (or equal to) service.
- 55. (D) Working यन्त्रवत् means serving tirelessly and steadily. Not only when rewarded, from afar, or only the wealthy.
- 56. (B) True worth lies in how humanely one serves others - not in degrees, posts, or wealth.
- 57. (C) It means 'service is verily the highest duty', shown by the serving doctor. The other readings are wrong.

58. (C) He proves the thesis by setting aside degrees and positions to tirelessly serve the sick. Not by collecting degrees, winning posts, or serving only payers.

59. (C) The vocabulary contrasts outward titles (उपाधिः, पदवी) with humane service (मानवीयाः) and concrete care (कषायम्). Not machines, directions, or thirst/hunger.

60. (D) परमः means highest (not first in time), and सेवा is service through presence, distinct from दान. The other options keep one or both errors.
